TUSCALOOSA GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY

Volume 2, Number 1

January 1977

The Tuscaloosa Genealogical Society was organized Nov. 17, 1975 under the sponsorship of the Arts and Humanities Council of Tuscaloosa County.

It was determined at the organizational meeting that there should be two groups of the Society, a morning group which would meet at 10 a.m. on the first Thursday of each month and an evening group which would meet at 7 p.m. the same day. The regular meeting place is the conference room of the Friedman Library.

The purpose of the Tuscaloosa Genealogical Society is the mutual education and promotion of genealogical research.

Officers for 1977 were elected at the November 1976 meeting. They are as follows:

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The growth of the Tuscaloosa Genealogical Society was remarkable in 1976. Few organizations can boast of a threefold increase in membership in the course of one year. But that is precisely what happened to us. And I think this has been due to the enthusiasm of the membership, and the willingness of people to work whenever called upon.

I remember working as a genealogist in Tuscaloosa for nearly five years without being aware of other researchers living in this area. Today it is most gratifying to have fellowship with over 100 friends in West Alabama who share the excitement of ancestral discovery. This is what the Tuscaloosa Genealogical Society is all about to me.

Once genealogy carried the stigma of snobbery. Today we have an excellent opportunity to finally establish genealogy as a serious and scholarly pursuit of truth and an invaluable tool of social history. Our attitudes and our standards in research will influence greatly the way society perceives and accepts us. I believe the genealogist will soon take his place along side other historians. And he will still have as much fun as he has ever had.

Let's work together in 1977. Let's have fun together.

R.L. GUFFIN, JR.

The Nathan Reids of Virginia and The March of Freedom by Elizabeth Reid Austin and Helen Reid Roberts was published in November 1976 by The Portals Press, P.O. Box 1048, Tuscaloosa, Ala.

At least 100,000 persons named Reid live in the United States today. A fair number of Reids are descendants of the three Nathan Reids of Virginia, and of John Reid, the military secretary of General Andrew Jackson, and the first biographer of the General.

Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Austin trace the Reids from Scotland in the 10th century.
