REPORT FROM THE NIGHT GROUP

"There's no such thing as 'Too Poor to Trace'" was the title of a most interesting program by Elizabeth Mills, given to the evening group on April 6th. Elizabeth reminded us that during the early periods of Southern History there was a type of person who felt no need to acquire land or property. Possibly they cleared a few acres of public land, did a little subsistence type farming for a few years, then moved on. Persons of this type left very few records but some sources do exist, such as military records, animal brand records, "Estray Books", Military Bounty Land records, (Even if they never lived on bounty land they may have sold it and records may be in Tract Books). Records of public service (road maintenance crews).etc. We were encouraged not to give up if we find no records of Wills, Deeds or Estate settlements. These people may be found in some of the less frequently consulted records.

On May 4th we met in the University of Alabama Map library in Farrah Hall. Mr. Thomas Kallsen presented an informative program, "An Introduction to Maps and Genealogy". The University Map Library houses a broad collection of Cartographic materials which is the largest such collection in the state. Mr. Kallsen had prepared a large exhibit of both old and contemporary maps and atlases of many different types. This map collection is a valuable source of information that is largely untapped by many seeking genealogical information. We all thank Mr. Kallsen for his excellent program.

Marie Rushing and Richard Owen are in the process of sorting the "Charles Boyd Papers" at the University Library. These deal primarily with Bibb County and Eastern Tuscaloosa County. Those with roots in that area may wish to consult this collection in the near future.

REPORT FROM THE MORNING GROUP

MR. HOWARD WHITE, a researcher of Indian peoples, talked to us at the May meeting. Mr. White gave an in-depth description of the BATTLE OF HORSESHOE BEND, and the events leading up to it. A very interesting map was displayed that showed the Indian nations as well as the battle area. Mr. White concluded with some valuable information on how to research your Indian ancestors. This was a most stimulating and informative program.

I have recently published a documented manuscript on the extinct village of WILEY, AL. If you have ancestors that lived in that area of Tuscaloosa County, there are a few left for sale. (55pp).

The 1880 Federal Census of Tuscaloosa County will be ready to print as soon as the index is finished. It has over 500 pages, so it was necessary to break it down into three volumes. This will make the cost higher than our other publications. If you are interested in this publication, let me know so we will have an idea of how many to print.

The other day I came across an article on the history of Tuscaloosa, by DR WILLIAM S. WYMAN. I would like to share with you an interesting bit of information found therein: "The following extract from the Nashville Clarion of June 10, 1817....furnishes information of the creation of a county in the NEW ALABAMA of which no mention is made in current histories of the state....'All that part of the Alabama Territory south of Blount County to the east of the Tombigbee river, to the north of Clarke county, and west of the highlands that divide the waters of the ALABAMA from the waters of the TOMBIGBEE, is made another county called SEVIER county, the seat of justice of which is the Falls of the BLACK WARRIOR RIVER. This is the highest point of navigation of the waters of MOBILE, is surrounded by good land--of course we may soon expect to see a thriving town at this place.'

The county of SEVIER as thus established on paper, with the county seat at the Falls of the BLACK WARRIOR was, as I suspect, only a ghost county. There is no record existing to show that the county of SEVIER was ever organized. If this great county had been established, it would have included the territory of the present counties of LAMAR, FAYETTE, WALKER, WINSTON, MARION, CULLMAN, JEFFERSON, PICKENS, GREENE, HALE, MARENGO AND TUSCALOOSA. Isn't that an odd bit of information?

I would like to take this opportunity to welcome our new members. If we can be of help to you in your research, please let us know.
